Pathhead is a fantastic community and lies on the A68 in close proximity to the larger town of Dalkeith in the county of Midlothian and lies due south from Edinburgh's city centre. It is surrounded by open countryside and forms part of the crescent of similar small towns stretching from Musselburgh to the east. The town of Pathhead is well served by local amenities such as; primary school, doctor's surgery, pharmacy, bakery, post office, local shop, takeaway and pub. In addition to the above there are excellent green spaces in the area such as a local park, Vogrie Country Park which is in walking distance and also Dalkeith Country Park.

Dalkeith itself is an excellent shopping centre and people travel in from a wide radius to take advantage of its opportunities as well as larger supermarkets. A great deal more than normal daily requirements are catered for in this location and there is also a good choice of banking and building society.

Pathhead is a convenient location for anyone requiring the motorway networks of east, west and central Scotland, perhaps in connection with their job. There is also a regular and regular bus service to Edinburgh's city centre.
